

Why You Need a Moolah Coach

You already know why you need money. Here's why you need a money coach.

You, like most people, find figuring out the best ways to manage money a bit intimidating. So mostly, you deposit your paycheck in your checking account and... that's pretty much it.

That is so wrong.

Because money shouldn't lie around doing nothing – money needs to be out there working for you the way you worked for it.

When you meet with a Moolah Coach, you get straight, impartial, one-on-one advice from a Certified Financial Planner™ (that's the best kind). You get recommendations specifically tailored to you and your financial situation. And you only pay for the time you use.

See? You've learned about a smart use of your money already.

What Is Moolah, Inc.?

Moolah is money. Shekels. Dough. Long green. Dinero. Dollars and cents.

Moolah, Inc. is the way to get a handle on money. How to buy in. When to sell off. How to make the right choice in all kinds of money decisions.

What money gives you is choices.

What Moolah, Inc. gives you is good financial advice. Good unbiased financial advice, because Moolah, Inc is a fee-only financial coaching service. So any mutual fund, any REIT, any bonds, in fact any investment or course of action we recommend is because it's best for you and your financial goals and not because we get a kickback or a commission for selling it to you.

Not every financial planner can say that... and most can't. Seriously. Check around.
